This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

REPORT.

OFFICE OF THE RAILROAD COMMISSION OF GEORGIA.
ATLANTA, GA., OCTOBER 15, 1903.

To His Excellency, Jos. M. Terrell, Governor:

SIR: By the terms of the Act creating the Railroad Commission of Georgia, it is made the duty of that Commission to report to the Governor from time to time such recommendations as it may have to offer touching the subject of regulation of railroads, and as well to give to the Chief Executive such information touching the operations of the Board of Railroad Commissioners as will enable the Legislature to understand the practical workings of that body. It is in obedience to this provision of this law that the Commission begs herewith to submit its report.

The wisdom of State regulation of common carriers is now so well established, and so thoroughly recognized, as that no one in this day seriously questions the policy of maintaining a system by which the common carriers of the State in their relations to the public are subject to governmental control. The history of this Commission, dating from its organization, vindicates the wisdom of its establishment. The railroad companies themselves have never been more prosperous, nor have the people of the State ever received such good service for so little money as at the present time. All of the powers of the Railroad Commission have been exercised for the promotion of the general welfare. The rules established by it from the beginning were conceived in wisdom; they have been enforced in moderation, but with an inflexible purpose—to see that complete justice was done to every citizen within the limits of the State. The power to regulate the operations of the great carrying corporations of the country carries with it an enormous responsibility; and this responsibility the Commission has to the best of its ability met from time to time in such a way as to protect all conflicting interests, and at the same time to promote the general welfare.

Digitized by Google

The system of railroad management in the State of Georgia has been regarded throughout the country as the most successful, the most wisely and best organized system that prevails in any of the States. While this is true, and in many respects our law is deserving of commendation, there are some respects in which it is deficient; and to these it is made the duty of the Railroad Commission, through Your Excellency, to direct the attention of the General Assembly.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Many complaints have from time to time been made to the Commission that the railroad companies, principally at non-competitive points on the lines of their several roads, fail or refuse to receive, receipt for and forward promptly to destination goods which are tendered to them for shipment. This is notably true during the cotton and fertilizer seasons, and of shipments of those commodities. The companies, when complaint is made, seek to excuse the failure so to receive, receipt for and forward to destination goods offered for shipment, upon the ground that their rolling stock is otherwise employed. The Commission is of the opinion that every railroad company engaged in business within the State of Georgia should provide itself with rolling stock and other equipment adequate to the prompt and expeditious transportation of any freights which may be offered. It is our opinion that the duty of the railroad companies, and the interests of the business and shipping public, demand that this should be done. The so-called extraordinary conditions arising from the sudden access of great volumes of freight, in view of their necessarily frequent recurrence, should be anticipated, and provision should be first made by the railroad companies of this State for the movement of traffic originating in this State and offered for shipment by its citizens.

It will be observed that while this Commission has ample power to prescribe and regulate rates of freight, the General Assembly has not heretofore conferred upon it the power to prescribe the time within which the carrier companies of the State should receive, receipt for and forward to destination freights tendered for shipment.

While the Commission has power to fix as against the citizen the amount which the railroad companies may exact by way of demurrage and storage for the failure promptly to receive from the railroad company freight which has been tendered in pursuance of the bill of lading, the Legislature has not conferred upon the Commission the corresponding power to impose upon the railroad companies a penalty for a failure promptly to receive, receipt for and forward to destination goods offered for shipment. An Act conferring upon this Commission such a power, with an appropriate penalty for violation of its orders carrying into effect the power conferred, was introduced at the suggestion of the Railroad Commission at the last session of the General Assembly, but failed of its passage. Such an Act would be of inestimable value to the people of the State, and would protect them against the vexation, annoyance and pecuniary loss resulting from the delays above mentioned, and to which they should not be subjected.

To the foregoing matters the Commission has repeatedly called the attention of the General Assembly, and has felt a sense of disappointment that, notwithstanding the personal efforts of the members of the Commission in appearing before the Committees of the General Assembly to present the arguments in favor of the matters thus recommended, the Legislature has not seen proper to pass any of the measures submitted at the suggestion of the Commission.

SIDE-TRACKS AND PHYSICAL CONNECTIONS BETWEEN RAILROADS.

In our opinion, the Commission ought to have conferred upon it the authority to require railroad companies to construct and maintain side-tracks wherever the public convenience demands them, and where the volume of business warrants their construction.

The General Assembly has heretofore seen proper to empower the Commission to require the location and erection of freight and passenger depot buildings. Side-tracks, being quite as necessary, and, indeed, as much a part of the indispensable facilities required for the proper handling of traffic as depot buildings themselves, ought, as we believe, to be likewise comprehended by the law so as to enable the Board to require the roads, whenever necessary, to afford adequate side-track facilities. If it is desirable that the Commission be clothed with the power to require the erection of a depot, it is equally desirable and reasonable that such an important concomitant as side-tracks be made subject to the same regulations, and we so recommend.

Digitized by Google

Practically the same reasoning applies to the provision of such physical connection between intersecting and connecting lines of railway as will render possible the interchange of freights and cars between such lines. Several cases have come to the knowledge of the Commission where, on account of conflicting interests or unfriendly feeling, the officials of intersecting lines refused to make such connections, with the result that inconvenience and hardship were put upon the people, who are entitled to route their freights by the shortest line, regardless of the relations existing between the managements of the different railroads.

We therefore recommend that legislation be enacted, conferring upon the Railroad Commission the authority in such cases, to require the intersecting or connecting railroads to put in the usual appliances to render feasible and convenient the interchange of freights and cars.

VENUE IN SUITS TO RECOVER PENALTY.

We recommend that the law be so amended as to authorize the bringing of suit to recover penalties for the violation of rules and orders of the Commission in the county wherein such violation may be committed, instead of, as at present, in the county in which are located the principal offices of the offending company. We are aware of no good reason to the contrary, and are convinced that the change suggested would not only aid largely in the attainment of justice, but would also render more economical and convenient its administration.

For example, where a railroad company has failed to comply with an order of the Board requiring the construction of a depot at a point in a given county, instead of bringing suit to recover the statutory penalty in that county, it is necessary to go perhaps hundreds of miles in order to bring suit in the county where the company's principal offices are located. And this, notwithstanding the fact that the State's evidence to prove the necessity for such depot and the reasonableness of the Commission's order, must be found in the vicinity of the proposed location, and notwithstanding the fact that the defendant railroad company could there present its case equally as well as at the county of its home office.

As it now is, the State must either bear the expense of summoning witnesses from a distance, or rely upon answers to written interrogatories. The jury is precluded from inspecting the premises, while the trial of all such suits in the county where the violation occurred would entirely obviate the difficulties above mentioned.

MANDAMUS.

At this time, the only means given the Commission by law to compel obedience to its rules and regulations is to sue in the courts for the recovery of penalties provided by the statute in cases where such rules and regulations are violated.

This remedy is manifestly inadequate and ought to be improved. The law should, in our judgment, be so amended as to enable the courts of this State, either by mandamus or mandatory injunction, in a summary way, to compel carriers specifically to perform the duties which they assume, or which are imposed upon them by law.

An example will suffice to demonstrate the necessity as above suggested. A railroad company finds that its revenues can be increased by charging exorbitant or discriminatory rates. The Commission issues an order requiring the company to desist. The company refuses. The Commission institutes suit to recover the statutory penalty. The maximum that can be recovered is five thousand dollars. The company finds that it would be to its financial advantage to litigate, even if compelled finally to pay the penalty. The litigation drags its slow length through the courts; and months, even years, elapse before the penalty is finally recovered. In the meantime, the public has been compelled to pay the unjust rate, and perhaps the commercial prosperity of a town or section has been destroyed.

If a given order or rule of the Commission is to be tested in the courts, it seems to us that its actual enforcement under mandamus from the courts would best demonstrate whether it was reasonable or unreasonable. It would enable the Commission to give immediate relief to the public, and at the same time would reserve to the carrier companies all of the legal rights that they now enjoy. Hence, we earnestly recommend that the law be amended as above indicated.

ARBITRATION OF TAX RETURNS.

In addition to these matters, which relate to the duties of the Commission devolved upon them by the original Act creating the Board, the members of the Commission beg leave to call attention to a subsequent provision of the law, passed in the year 1894, by the terms of which the members of the Commission were made ex-officio arbitrators on behalf of the State in the settlement of disputed valuations upon tax returns submitted by the several railroad, express and telegraph companies to the Comptroller-General. This system of ascertaining values by the reference of disputed returns in each case to boards of arbitration has been put to a thorough test during the present year, and the Commission is fully persuaded that there should be some change in the present law upon that subject.

When it is borne in mind that, upon each separate contested return, there must be organized an independent board of arbitration, each board, not necessarily, but usually, composed of persons other than those who sat upon any other board, it will be readily seen that it is utterly impossible to bring about any system of tax assessment upon corporate properties that could be even approximately uniform. The General Assembly provides no standard of value by which to estimate the value of either the tangible or intangible property of railroad companies. Instead of taxing the corporation as a going concern, and in such way as to reach every element that enters into the value of its properties, it has endeavored to separate into distinct items the realty of the company, its intangible property, and as well the various kinds of property that go to make up its personal possessions, and, by valuing each separately, endeavors to ascertain the value of the corporate assets as a whole.

With all respect to the General Assembly, it occurs to the Commission that this system cannot result in anything short of confusion; and especially is this true when it is remembered that these valuations are referred for settlement to as many separate boards of arbitration as there may happen to be of contested tax returns. The Constitution of the State requires that taxation shall be uniform; and it is respectfully submitted, that the principle of uniformity can never be applied to any system of taxation formulated upon such a basis.

The Commission would respectfully recommend to the General Assembly, if it shall be the purpose of the General Assembly to continue the members of the Commission in the discharge of this particular line of duty, that the public service would be better promoted, and the public interests better advanced, if the whole question of the valuation of railroad property for taxation were submitted direct to the Railroad Commission.

Digitized by Google

If the General Assembly, acting upon this suggestion, should adopt this means of ascertaining the value of the properties of the public service corporations, specific provision should be made, by statute, for such returns to the Commission of the operations of such corporations as would enable it at all times to understand and appreciate the elements of value that enter into the corporate properties. Power should be conferred upon the Commission to make such examination of the corporate books as would enable it intelligently to pass upon the value of the corporate properties.

CONCLUSION.

The Commission, from time to time during the current year, has taken occasion to inspect the physical condition of the properties of the railroad companies of this State. They are found to be in good condition. Many depots have been constructed at various points during the year, and many are now in process of construction. Indeed, upon a careful review of the whole situation, the Commission is of the opinion that, with the changes in the law hereinbefore suggested, there would be no reason to apprehend that the people of any section of the State would suffer as a consequence of their want of proper railroad service and facilities.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GENERAL RULES.

RULE 1.

Definition of the word "Company."

The word "Company," as used and intended by any and all of the rules and regulations of the Commission, shall be deemed and taken to mean and include all corporations, companies, firms and persons that may now be engaged, or that may hereafter become engaged, in performing for hire any service to the public that is now, or that shall hereafter be, subject by law to the jurisdiction or control of the Commission.

RULE 2.

All unjust discrimination forbidden.

The several companies, in the conduct of their intra-state business, shall afford to all persons equal facilities in the conduct of such business, without unjust discrimination in favor of, or against, any; and wherever special facilities are afforded to one patron, whether upon a special rate authorized by this Commission, or otherwise, such company shall be bound to afford to any other patron, or patrons, under substantially similar circumstances, like facilities upon like rates.

All rates bona fide. No rebates

The rate charged for any service, by any company, shall be bona fide and public; and the giving of any rebate, bonus or "draw-back" is hereby expressly forbidden.

RULE 3.

Rates of Commission are maximum rates.

All of the rates prescribed by the Commission are maximum rates, which shall not be exceeded by any company.

Rates may be reduced below maximum, provided no discrimination is made.

Any company may charge less than the prescribed maximum rate, provided that, if a less rate be charged to one person, such company shall, for a like service, charge the same lessened rate to all persons, except as may be hereafter provided; and if any company shall reduce any of its rates to or from one agency or station, it shall, except in cases where otherwise specially provided by the Commission, make a reduction of the same percentage to and from all other stations on its line, to the end that no unjust discrimination be made in favor of, nor against, any person, persons or locality.

RULE 4.

Tariffs to be kept posted.

Each company shall keep conspicuously posted at all of its stations, offices and agencies in Georgia, a copy of the schedule or schedules of rates prescribed by the Commission for the government of such company.

Changes in tariffs to be posted.

When any change is made in such schedule, either by such company voluntarily, or pursuant to an order of the Commission, such company shall immediately furnish a copy of said change to the office of the Commission, and shall also post copies thereof in the same manner as above specified, as notice to the public that said change has been made.

Advances and reductions, Notice o

No advance in any rate, whether it be a maximum rate, or otherwise, shall become effective until ten days, nor shall any reduction in any rate become effective until three days, after notice has been given, as above required.

RULE 5.

Special rates must be approved by Commission.

All special rates, made by any company for any service to be rendered, shall first be submitted to and approved by the Commission before being put in effect.

RULE 6.

If, between any two points in Georgia, there are two or more routes, whether composed of the lines of one or more companies, the rate for any service via any of such routes, between such points, may be reduced to correspond with the lowest rates for similar service in effect between the said points, without making reductions at intermediate points.

Long lines allowed to meet short line rates.

Any rate, to or from any Georgia point, may be so reduced as to place such Georgia point on an equality with any competitive point in another State, without making any reduction in rates to or from other stations not similarly situated, with respect to such competitive rates.

Georgia points may be put on equality with points in other States.

Provided, That in no case shall the rate charged for any service for a given distance be greater than the rate for a similar service over a longer distance, by the same company.

Rate for short distance not to exceed long distance.

RULE 7.

All rates effective in this State, except in cases otherwise specified, shall apply in either direction, over the same line, between the same points.

Rates apply in both directions.

RULE 8.

It shall be the duty of any company to accept for transportation any goods, the carriage of which by such company is reasonably safe and practicable, and to transport the same by the train for which they are offered.

Duty to accept and transport goods.

RULE 9.

In no case shall any company collect for any service more than the exact amount due according to the current rate.

Exact charge may be collected.

If any company shall fail to make the necessary change of money to enable it to collect such exact amount, then the next lower amount ending in 5 or 0 shall be charged.

RULE 10.

All excessive charges that may be collected by any company for any service rendered shall be refunded by such company within thirty days after demand therefor is made by the person so wronged upon the office or agency of such company through which such overcharge may have been collected.

Overcharges must be refunded within thirty days.

Where such an overcharge is made in connection with, or incident to, the performance of a service in which two or more companies participate, such overcharge shall be so refunded by the company, and through the particular office or agency by which the same may have been collected, regardless of any division or apportionment of such total charge by such companies among themselves.

RULE 11.

Each company shall file in the office of the Commission, on or before the last day of each month, a report, duly sworn to, showing fully and in detail the earnings and expenses of such company during the month preceding.

Monthly Reports.

And each of said companies shall, on or before the fifteenth day of September of each year, file in the office of the Commission an annual report, duly sworn to, showing fully and in detail the operations of such company during the preceding fiscal year, to wit: from July the first to June the thirtieth, both inclusive.

Annual Reports.

Blanks furnished by Commission.

All of said reports shall be rendered on, and in accordance with, the printed forms that the Commission will prescribe and furnish for that purpose.

Other information to be furnished when required.

In addition to the foregoing, each of such companies shall furnish such other reports and information as the Commission may require from time to time.

Books, etc., to be produced.

Furthermore, it shall be the duty of each of said companies to produce for the inspection of the Commission any and all books, papers, contracts, agreements and other original records, of any character whatsoever, that may be in possession of said company, or within its power, custody or control, or copies thereof, as may be demanded and designated by the Commission.

RULE 12.

How to bring complaints; rules of procedure.

All complaints made to the Railroad Commission, of alleged grievances, must plainly and distinctly state the grounds of complaint, the items being numbered, and objections all being set forth in writing.

In like manner, all defenses must be distinctly made in writing, and the items correspondingly numbered, as above stated.

Arguments may be either made in person or in writing

These specifications, whether of complaint or of defense, may be accompanied, if the parties so desire, by any explanation or argument, or by any suggestion, touching the proper remedy or policy. The parties may also be heard in person, or by attorney, or by written argument, upon such written statements' being first filed.

Testimony to be submitted in writing.

Unless otherwise expressly ordered, upon the hearing of all causes that may hereafter come on to be heard before the Commission, the respective parties shall present the testimony of their witnesses by affidavits, in like manner as the same are now by law required to be submitted upon the hearing of applications for injunctions.

When affidavits must be filed.

All affidavits, intended to be offered by either party, shall be served upon the opposite party, his counsel or agent having control of his case, at least three days, and all counter-affidavits at least twelve hours, before the day set for their hearing. This rule of procedure will be varied only when, in the exercise of a sound discretion, this Commission shall be of the opinion that a departure from the letter thereof may be necessary to the attainment of substantial justice.

RULE 13.

Right reserved to suspend or modify any regulation.

The Commission reserves the right to suspend or modify, at its discretion, the enforcement of any of its rules, rates, orders or other regulations, where, in its opinion, the conditions are such, in any particular instance, that a strict enforcement of such rules, or other regulations, would result in hardship or injustice.

RULE 4.

Excursion rates exempted.

Nothing in the rules of this Commission shall be construed as placing any restriction upon the privilege of railroad companies to make special rates for excursions or for any other special occasion.

RULE 5.

Must sell tickets at depots.

All of the various kinds of tickets that may be on sale at any and all other offices of a given railroad company, in any given town or city, shall likewise be kept on sale at the depot ticket-office of such railroad company in such town or city, at the same prices.

RULE 6.

Comfortable cars and waiting-rooms.

All passenger waiting-rooms and passenger-cars in use by railroads in this State shall be kept supplied with drinking-water, and shall be so lighted, heated, ventilated and equipped as to render the occupants of the same reasonably comfortable, the circumstances of each case being considered.

RULE 7.

Waiting-rooms to be opened before arrival of trains.

At junction points, railroad companies shall be required to open their depot waiting rooms for the accommodation of the traveling public, at least fifteen minutes before the schedule time for the arrival of all passenger-trains.

At non-junction stations.

At local, or non-junction points, all such-waiting rooms shall likewise be opened, provided, that the same shall not be required to be opened, nor kept open, after ten o'clock, p.m., except for delayed trains due before that hour, in which case such rooms shall be kept open until the actual arrival of such delayed trains.

RULE 8.

Delayed trains must be bulletined.

Whenever any passenger-train on any railroad in this State shall be more than one-half of one hour behind its schedule time, it shall be the duty of said railroad to bulletin, and to keep posted at each of its telegraph stations along its line, between such delayed train and its destination, notice of the time such train is behind its schedule time, and the time of its arrival at such stations, as nearly as can be approximated.

RULE 9.

Notice to be given of obstructions.

Whenever there is, by reason of accident or otherwise, a break or obstruction on the line of any railroad company in this State that will probably delay any passenger-train on said railroad, it shall be the duty of said railroad company to cause notice thereof to be bulletined at all stations, at and between such passenger-train and the place so obstructed; and said railroad company shall cause notice of such obstruction, and the delay that will probably be caused thereby, to be given to the passengers aboard such train, before the same shall leave such stations.

FREIGHT RULES.

RULE 1.

Where, in this State, two or more connecting lines of railroad are operated by, or under, one management or company, or where the majority of the stock of each of two or more railroad companies, whose tracks connect, is owned or controlled, either directly or indirectly, by any one of such companies, the lines of railroad of all of such companies shall, within the meaning and intent of the rules of the Commission, be considered as constituting but one and the same railroad, and rates for the carriage of freight over such railroads, or any portion thereof, shall be computed upon a continuous mileage basis, the same as upon the line of a single railroad company, whether such railroads have separate boards of directors or not.

Continuous mileage rates, when applicable.

RULE 2.

Railroads shall promptly receive goods offered for shipment, and shall, when so required by the consignor, issue duplicate receipts or bills of lading therefor.

Freight to be promptly received

Such bills of lading shall show separately and in detail the weight and freight-class of each kind of goods embraced in the shipment, and the total rate per hundred pounds, per ton or per carload, as the case may be, to be charged for transporting each class to the destination named in such bill of lading.

Bills of lading, what they must show.

When such bill of lading is presented at destination to the agent of the railroad, that is to deliver such freight to the consignee, it shall be the duty of the railroad to deliver said goods, either to the consignee, or his order, upon payment of the freight and other charges lawfully due thereon.

Prompt delivery of freight to consignees

The expense bill then issued to such consignee by such railroad shall show separately the weight, the rate and the total charge upon the goods embraced in each separate class of freight composing the shipment.

Expense bills, what they must show.

RULE 3.

All connecting railroads in Georgia shall promptly receive from and deliver to each other all freight intended to pass over their respective lines, or parts thereof, in order to reach its destination; and no railroad shall prevent, delay or obstruct, either by act of omission or commission, the prompt interchange of such freight, to the end that the transportation and delivery thereof to the consignee may be accomplished with the greatest practicable dispatch.

Prompt interchange of freight.

RULE 4.

Unless otherwise specially provided by the rules or classification of the Commission, every railroad shall assess its charges for transporting a shipment, of any class, upon the actual weight thereof, and at the lowest rate of freight actually in force upon said railroad on goods of the same class, whether such rate be prescribed by the Commission, or otherwise.

Actual weights to govern.

Twenty-five cents may be collected, however, as a minimum charge for transporting any shipment, however small, subject to Freight Rule Number 27.

Minimum freight charge.

Digitized by Google

RULE 5.

Rates for over 250 miles and under 20 miles.

Any railroad, or any line of connecting railroads, may reduce any rate for the transportation of freight between any points on their lines that may be less than twenty, or more than two hundred and fifty miles apart, without making corresponding reductions for distances over twenty and less than two hundred and fifty miles.

No unjust discrimination to be made.

Provided, That where such a reduction is made in a rate for the carriage of freight between any two points more than two hundred and fifty miles apart by any railroad or connecting lines of railroads, a similar reduction shall be made for the carriage of similar freights between all other points on said railroads that may be more than two hundred and fifty miles apart, to the end that no unjust discrimination may be made against any point or points on said railroads under substantially similar circumstances and conditions.

RULE 6.

Actual weights to apply.

Unless otherwise provided by the Commission, all freight charges shall be assessed upon the actual weight of the goods transported, when such actual weight can be ascertained.

Actual weights, how ascertained.

In the case of carload shipments, such actual weights shall be ascertained by a sworn weigher, who shall balance the scales immediately before weighing each car, and shall see to it that the car to be weighed is free from all bearing of any other car or cars, except where the articles of freight being shipped are loaded on two or more cars, lapped.

Sworn weigher, duties of.

Such sworn weigher shall keep a complete record of such weights, and shall attach to the bill of lading issued for such shipment by the railroad company a certificate, according to the following form:

WEIGHER'S CERTIFICATE.

Certificate of weight.

I, ...sworn weigher for the..... Rail....., at....., do certify on oath that I, this..... day of.....weighed car number.....of the..... RULE 8.

Fractions that occur in the net rate, after adding or deducting any percentage applicable to the Standard Tariff, shall be disposed of as follows: Fractions, how disposed of.

If such rate applies to Class G, or to any other class where fractions are shown by the Standard Tariff, fractions of three-fourths of a cent, or over, shall be computed as one cent; and fractions less than three-fouths but not less than one-fourth of a cent, shall be computed as half a cent. Fractions of less than one-fourth of a cent shall be dropped. Example:

Ex. 1.—Standard Rate.....	6.5
25 per cent. added..	1.6
Total.....	8.1	from which deduct fraction, leaving desired rate of 8 cents.
Ex. 2.—Standard Rate.....	9.5
20 per cent. added..	1.9
Total.....	11.4	Substituting .5 for the fraction, the desired rate is 11.5 cents.
Ex. 3.—Standard rate.....	8
20 per cent. added..	1.6
Total.....	9.6	Substituting .5 for the fraction, the desired rate is 9.5 cents.
Ex. 4.—Standard Rate.....	5.5
25 per cent. added..	1.3
Total.....	6.8	Adding a unit instead of a fraction, the desired rate is 7 cents.

If such rate applies to Class No. One, or to any other class where the Standard Tariff does not show fractions of a cent, fractions of a half cent, or over, shall be computed as one cent; and fractions less than half a cent shall be dropped. Example:

Ex. 1.—Standard Rate.....	17.
20 per cent. added..	3.4
Total.....	20.4	Deducting the fraction, the desired rate is 20 cents.
Ex. 2.—Standard Rate.....	18.
20 per cent. added..	3.6
Total.....	21.6	Estimating the fraction as a unit, the desired rate is 22 cents.

RULE 9.

Regardless of any percentage of increase above the Standard Tariff that may be allowed by the Freight Classification in classifying any given article or class of freight, the Standard Tariff only shall be the basis for computing any percentages in addition to Standard Tariff rates that may be allowed by the Commission to any particular railroad in its individual freight tariff, on the same article or class, to the end that no railroad may apply more than one percentage of increase to the Standard Tariff rate in any instance. Percentages of increase, how applied.

But, on the contrary, where the Freight Classification specifies a percentage of decrease below the Standard Tariff on any article or kind of freight, then the rate so reduced, and not the full Standard Tariff rate, shall be the basis for computing the increased percentages allowed by the Commission to an individual railroad, as above specified. Percentage of decrease.

RULE 15.

Provided, however, That in no case shall any rate be thus made higher than it would be for a distance greater by five miles than the distance such shipment is actually transported. Excessively higher rate prohibited.

RULE 16.

For each necessary handling of any extra heavy article, either in loading the same on, or in unloading the same from cars, railroads may collect as a maximum compensation for such service, as follows: Extra heavy articles; charges for handling.

Under 2,000 pounds, no extra charge for handling.

For 2,000 pounds and under	3,000 pounds	$ 3 00

RULE 17.

Railroads may charge, for transporting freight on regular passenger trains, one and one-half times the regular freight rate for the carriage of the same shipment by freight train between the same points. Passenger trains; rates of freight on.

RULE 18.

Where short of 100 miles the actual distance that a shipment may be carried is not shown by the Standard Freight Tariff, charges may be collected as for the distance that is shown by said Standard Tariff most nearly approximating the actual distance. For example: If the actual distance be 48 miles, the 50 mile rate may apply; for 47 miles, the 45 mile rate shall apply. Distances, regulations concerning.

For distances over 100 miles, where the actual distance is not shown by the Standard Freight Tariff, the next greater distance shown shall govern. For example: if the actual distance be 101 miles, the rate for 110 miles may apply. Over 100 miles.

RULE 19.

A ton, as intended by all of the regulations of the Commission, is 2,000 pounds, unless otherwise specified. Ton, Definition of.

Unless otherwise specified in the Freight Classification of the Commission, a minimum carload is ten tons. Minimum carload.

Where the weight of a shipment of any class of freight exceeds the weight specified as the minimum carload of such class, a proportionately increased freight charge may be collected. Carloads in excess of minimum weight.

A carload shipment shall be a consignment of at least the specified minimum carload weight of one class of freight, at one time, by one consignor, from one point of consignment to one consignee, at one point of delivery. Carload shipment, definition of.

RULE 20.

Where, owing to the length, size, bulk, weight, or any other peculiarity of the articles composing a shipment, more than one car is required for the transportation thereof, freight charges may be assessed as if upon the prescribed minimum carload weight of such freight, multiplied by the number of cars so employed, regardless of how much less the actual weight of such shipment may be. RULE 21.

Telegraph material; distribution of on right of way.

Where, pursuant to any rules or orders of the Commission, or otherwise, it shall become the duty of a railroad company, or where such company shall voluntarily undertake, to transport poles, wire and other materials for the construction, maintenance, operation or repair of telegraph or telephone lines, and to distribute such materials along or upon its right of way between stations in this State, as desired by the consignor, the following regulations shall govern:

All such freights shall be billed at current tariff rates from the point of shipment to the first regular station next beyond the last intermediate place where any of such material is to be unloaded. The consignor shall furnish all labor necessary to effect such distribution. For the extra service and hazard of stopping cars and engines between stations as above indicated, the railroad company may charge and collect ten dollars per car in addition to the current tariff rates; it being understood that no regulation of this Commission shall require such distribution service to be performed, except for telephone and telegraph companies duly chartered according to law.

RULE 22.

Ten mile minimum for short lines.

A railroad company, whose line of road does not exceed ten miles in length, may assess and collect freight charges on any shipment transported by it between any points on its line, as if said shipment were carried ten miles.

RULE 23.

Transfer or switching charge

A charge of no more than two dollars per car, without regard to its weight or contents, will be allowed for transporting, switching or transferring a loaded car from any point on any railroad to any connecting railroad, or to any warehouse, side-track or other customary point of delivery that may be designated by the consignor, within a distance of three miles from the point of starting.

Joint charges to be equitably divided.

When in the transfer, switching or transportation of a car between such points, it is necessary to pass over the track or tracks of any intermediate railroad or railroads, said maximum charge of two dollars shall be equitably divided between the railroads at interest.

Empties returned without extra charge.

When a charge is made for the transfer, switching or transportation of a loaded car between such points, no additional charge shall be made for the accompanying movement of the empty car in the opposite direction.

Rates between different stations not to be disturbed.

Provided, That this rule shall not interfere with any prevailing legal rate for the transportation of freight between different stations, but shall apply only to switching movements or service incident to the forwarding or delivery of shipments, and to local transportation movements or service between points, both of which are situated at or immediately adjacent and tributary to a single station, and within the customary yard or switching limits thereof.

RULE 24.

Use of property by another railroad not authorized.

No regulation of the Commission shall be construed as requiring or authorizing the use of any property of one railroad company by another railroad company, for any purpose whatever, without the consent of the owner of such property.

RULE 25.

Depots, hours for keeping open.

At all of their agencies in Georgia cities and towns having less than 10,000 inhabitants each, according to the most recently published National census, railroads shall receive all freight properly offered for transportation, and shall make the usual deliveries of freight to consignees, at all times on each day (Sundays excepted) between the hours of seven o'clock a.m., and six o'clock p.m., from April the first, to September the thirtieth inclusive; and between the hours of seven o'clock a.m., and five o'clock p.m., from October the first, to March the thirty-first inclusive.

In cities having 10,000 inhabitants, or over, according to the most recently published National census, said hours shall be from seven o'clock a.m., to six o'clock p.m., during the entire year, with the exception of an intermission of one hour, from twelve o'clock noon, to one o'clock p.m.

Earlier or later delivery or receiving not prohibited.

Nothing in this rule contained shall be construed as preventing such delivery and receiving of freights by railroads earlier or later than the above mentioned hours, if they so desire.

RULE 26.

Shipping instructions must accompany goods

All goods offered to a public carrier for transportation shall be accompanied by the necessary instructions for the immediate shipment thereof.

Preparation of goods for shipment.

No railroad company shall be required to accept for carriage any goods, unless the same shall be of such character and in such condition and so prepared for shipment, as to render the transportation thereof reasonably safe and practicable; nor unless such goods, or the packages containing the same, shall legibly bear the name and address of the intended consignee.

Inspection, facilities for.

If the contents of a package can not be readily inspected, it shall be the duty of the consignor, upon demand, to furnish to the carrier a complete, sworn list of such contents, in default of which the carrier may refuse to accept such goods for transportation.

RULE 27.

Joint rates

No railroad shall charge more than its maximum legal rate, less ten per centum, for its service in carrying a joint shipment; that is to say, a shipment that, in reaching its destination, is carried by two or more different, independent and separately operated railroads, to which continuous mileage rates do not apply, under the provisions of Freight Rule No. One.

Provided, That this rule shall not be construed as prohibiting the division of any joint rate by the railroads at interest among themselves in such proportions as may be agreed upon by them.

RULE 28.

Narrow gauge railroads, carload weight.

When transported by a narrow gauge railroad, fifteen thousand pounds shall be the minimum carload weight of any class of freight upon which the Commission has made a rate "per carload," instead of "per ton" or "per hundred pounds," regardless of what the prescribed carload weight of similar freight may be when carried by standard gauge railroads; and the freight rate upon such a reduced carload weight shall be less in the same proportion.

Transfer to and from narrow gauge railroads.

Where continuous mileage rates apply, under the provisions of Freight Rule No. 1 of the Commission, to two lines of railroad, one of the same being of narrow gauge and the other of standard gauge, an extra charge of three dollars per carload, regardless of the weight or contents thereof, may be made for transferring a shipment of brick or lumber from one of said lines to the other in transit.

RULES GOVERNING THE ERECTION AND LOCATION OF RAILROAD. EXPRESS AND TELEGRAPH DEPOTS, STATIONS, AGENCIES AND OFFICES.

RULE 1.

Depots etc., to be established.

It shall be the duty of all railroad, express and telegraph companies in this State to establish, conduct and maintain such stations, offices and agencies for the transaction of the usual and customary business with their patrons, at all points on their lines in Georgia where the volume of such business offered shall reasonably justify, or where the public service and convenience may reasonably require the same.

RULE 2.

No discontinuance of agencies without consent of commission.

Each and every depot, station, office and agency, now maintained, conducted or used in Georgia by any railroad, express or telegraph company doing business in this State, for the transaction of business with the public, is hereby formally established and located at the point and on the premises where the same is now being so maintained and conducted. No such depot, station, office or agency, as aforesaid, now established, or that hereafter may be established, pursuant to orders made by the Commission, or voluntarily by such company, or otherwise, shall be closed, removed, suspended, discontinued or abolished, without authority granted by the Commission upon written application.

RULE 3.

Application for depots, what they should show.

All applications that may be made, asking that the Commission will require the establishment of any railroad, telegraph or express office, station or agency, or the construction or improvement of any depot building, whether for freight or passengers, or for both, shall clearly and fully set forth in detail all of the reasons and grounds upon which such applications may be based, and in so doing, shall give, as nearly as may be practicable, the following information: The population of the town, city, or other locality in question, the number of stores, schools, churches, factories, etc., in and adjacent thereto, the actual and immediately prospective volume of business to be accommodated by the said improvement desired, and all such further information as would enable the Commission understandingly to judge of the necessity for such improvement, and intelligently to act upon such application.

RULE 4.

Separate waiting rooms for white and colored.

Each railroad company shall provide separate waiting-rooms for white and colored passengers in each and every passenger depot, and in each and every combination freight and passenger depot, that may hereafter be built, rebuilt or remodeled by such company in this State, whether done voluntarily by such company, or in compliance with orders made by the Commission, or otherwise.

STORAGE RULES.

RULE 1.

It shall be the duty of railroad companies to give to consignees prompt legal notice of the arrival of their goods at destination; and the giving of such legal notice, as hereinafter defined and provided, shall be a condition precedent to the collection of any and all storage charges, and no such charges shall be assessed nor collected other than as authorized by these rules. Notice of arrival of goods to be given.

RULE 2.

Legal notice, as herein understood and intended, may be either served by mail or personally; and the leaving of notice at the consignee's residence, or usual place of doing business, shall also be consdiered personal notice. In either case, such notice must show the weight of the freight in question, and the amount of charges due thereon; and in case of carload shipments, shall show as well the initials and number, or numbers, of the car or cars containing the same. Notice, how served, and information given.

If such notice be served personally upon the consignee, the period of free time within which to receive such freight and to remove the same from the custody of the delivering railroad company, shall begin at seven o'clock A. M., on the day after such notice is served, and shall continue during forty-eight hours, exclusive of Sundays, legal holidays, and such hours on other days during the free period, between seven o'clock A. M., and seven o'clock P. M., as the inclemency of the weather may render the removal of the freight in question from the custody of the carrier reasonably impracticable, of which, in case of dispute, the Commission shall judge. Free time.

Where notice is served by mail, twenty-four hours of additional free time shall be allowed, under the same conditions above mentioned. Notice by mail.

Provided, That where such notice is alleged to have been served by mail, and the consignee makes oath that neither he nor any of his agents nor employees has received the same, then no storage charge shall be made until legal notice has been given, as above specified.

Where one consignee receives over the lines of one railroad company in one day four or more cars that take track delivery, each of said cars, in excess of three, shall have seventy-eight hours of free time. Over four cars in one day.

Where consignors ship goods to themselves, or their order, the above prescribed written notice, duly mailed to the consignee at the point of delivery, shall be taken and held to be sufficient legal notice, whether such consignee actually receives the same or not. Order—notify shipments.

Where notice is given in substantial compliance with the foregoing requirements, the consignee shall not thereafter have the right to call in question the accuracy nor sufficiency of such notice, unless, within twenty-four hours after receiving the same, he shall serve upon the delivering carrier a full written statement of his objections to the insufficiency of such notice. Substantial compliance.

RULE 3.

Subject to these rules and regulations, the maximum storage charges that may be lawfully assessed or collected by railroad companies in this State, where freight is not removed from their custody within the free time by these rules prescribed, shall be:

Amounts that may be charged.

On loaded cars, one dollar per car per day, or fraction of a day.

On freight in carload lots, unloaded and stored in depots or warehouses, ten cents per ton of two thousand pounds per day, or fraction of a day.

On freight in less than carload lots, stored in freight depots or warehouses, one cent per hundred pounds per day, or fraction of a day.

Provided, That in no case shall the amount so collected on a less than carload shipment be greater than the maximum charge on a carload of freight similarly stored for the same length of time.

RULE 4.

Arrival, definition of.

When a car, destined for delivery at a particular point, shall be brought within the customary switching limits of the delivering road at the point of destination designated in the bill of lading under which such shipment is carried, and is placed at a point not more than three miles distant from the freight depot of such carrier, the goods therein contained shall, within the meaning of these rules, be deemed to have arrived at destination, in so far as to impose upon the consignee the duty of giving direction for the disposition and placing of the car, upon receipt by him of legal notice of the arrival thereof.

RULE 5.

Cars must be accessible for unloading.

A car taking track delivery must be, and remain, accessible to the consignee, for the purpose of unloading the same, during the prescribed free time.

If, during free time, a car be removed, or its unloading be otherwise obstructed or prevented by the delivering railroad company, the consignee shall not be charged with the consequent delay.

If the delivering railroad company removes a car after storage begins thereon, such car shall, upon demand of the consignee, be promptly made accessible for the unloading thereof.

RULE 6.

Rejected shipments.

Where a consignee shall give the delivering carrier written notice of his refusal to accept a shipment of freight properly tendered in pursuance of the bill of lading, the delivering carrier shall give to the consignor legal notice of such refusal; and if the consignor fails, within three days thereafter, to give direction for the disposition of such goods, he shall thenceforth become liable to such carrier for the usual storage charges, to the same extent, and at the same rate, as such charges are now, under like circumstances, by the rules of this Commission, imposed upon consignees who neglect or refuse, after notice of arrival, to remove freight of like character.

No such notice of refusal, however, shall be required of a carrier company where goods are shipped in less than carload lots, unless such goods, or the packages containing the same, shall legibly bear the name and address of the consignor thereof; and notice properly directed and posted to such address shall be held as valid, whether the addressee actually receives the same or not.

Digitized by Google

A consignee who has once refused to accept a consignment of goods, shall not thereafter be entitled to receive the same, except upon the payment of all charges for storage which would otherwise have accrued.

RULE 7.

Distant consignees.

A consignee whose place of business is located five miles, or over, from the depot to which his freight is billed, shall not be subject to any storage charge thereon until a sufficient time shall elapse, after legal notice of the arrival of such freight, for such consignee to have removed the same from the custody of the delivering carrier by the exercise of reasonable diligence, of which, in case of dispute, the Commission shall judge.

RULE 8.

Loading of cars.

Where, upon the request of an intending shipper, a railroad company places a car or cars at a reasonably accessible point on its team tracks, or on a private track designated by the shipper, free time for the loading of such car or cars shall expire forty-eight hours from the time the same are so placed, exclusive of Sundays, legal holidays, and such hours on other days during the free period between seven o'clock A. M., and seven o'clock P. M., when the inclemency of the weather may render the work of loading such cars reasonably impracticable, of which, in case of dispute, the Commission shall judge; and thereafter a storage charge of no more than one dollar per car per day, or fraction of a day, may be assessed and collected by the railroad company until such car or cars have been tendered to the railroad company with shipping instructions.

RULE 9.

Failure to deliver freights promptly.

When any railroad company fails to deliver freights at its freight depot, or to place loaded cars at an accessible point for unloading the same within forty-eight hours, exclusive of Sundays and legal holidays, computed from seven o'clock A. M., the day after the arrival of the same at destination over its line, the shipper or consignee of such goods shall be paid one dollar per car per day for each day, or fraction thereof, that such delivery is so delayed.

RULE 10.

Detention of cars by shippers.

Where loaded cars are detained at the point of consignment for want of proper shipping instructions, or by reason of improper or excessive loading thereof by the shipper, the railroad company may collect from such shipper one dollar per car for each day or fraction of a day that such car or cars may be so delayed.

Railroads must transport promptly.

Where loaded cars are detained at the point of consignment thereof through no fault of the shipper, and are not carried forward within twenty-four hours after the same are properly tendered to the railroad company for transportation, such shipper shall be entitled to collect from such railroad company one dollar per car for each day or fraction of a day that such car or cars may be so detained.

DIRECTIONS FOR COMPUTING RATES.

For the benefit of those who may not be familiar with the subject, the following directions are given for the computation of rates from the Classification and Tariff of the Commission, contained in this volume.

This can best be done by an actual example:—Take for instance a shipment of dry goods weighing 500 pounds, from Savannah to Tennille, Ga. Tennille being on the line of the Central of Georgia Railway, we turn to the distance tables of that company, on page 78, where the distance from Savannah to Tennille is shown to be 135 miles. At the top of the page it will be noticed that the Central of Georgia Railway is in Freight Class C, and that reference is made to page No. 39. Turning to page 39, a classified list of railroads in Georgia is found, the Central being in Class C; and on the opposite page, (No. 38,) we find that on several classes of freight all roads in Class C are allowed to add 25 per cent. to rates shown in the Standard Tariff.

Now turn to the Classification, which begins on page 43, (arranged in alphabetical order), and under the head of "D" it will be seen that Dry Goods are in first-class. Turn to the Standard Tariff, page 40, and follow down the first column, which shows the miles. There being no distance of 135 shown, the next highest distance governs; and opposite 140 miles, in the next column, (this being the column for first-class) the rate is seen to be 57 cents per 100 pounds. The road being allowed to add 25 per cent. to this class, and 25 per cent. of 57 cents being 14 cents, we find by adding the 57 and 14 together, that the maximum rate is 71 cents per 100 pounds or on the 500 pound shipment, $3.55.

JOINT SHIPMENT OVER SEVERAL RAILROADS.

Where a shipment passes over two or more roads, proceed exactly in the same manner, and ascertain the rate for the distance hauled over each road separately, and having done this, add together these several rates thus ascertained, and deduct from the total ten per cent of the amount, and the remainder will be the net maximum rate to be collected. As an example, suppose that a shipment passes over a part of three different roads, and the rate for the first is $1.50, the next $2.85 and the third $4.20. The total is $8.55, and one-tenth of that sum is 85½ cents, or 86 cents, which subtracted from the total of $8.55, leaves a net maximum joint rate of $7.69 on the shipment.

A careful reading of all the rules will be of very great assistance. Especial reference is made to Freight Rules Nos. 1, 7, 8, 9, 18, 19, 27.

The Classification and Distance Tables being arranged in alphabetical order, any particular article of freight or the distance table of any particular railroad may be easily found. The Index in the back of this Report will enable one to find readily any Rule, Tariff, etc., desired.

NOTE.—While for convenience the Distance Tables show distances to some towns and cities outside of this State, it will be borne in mind that the rates shown in this Report apply only to shipments which originate and terminate in Georgia, as shipments passing from one State to another constitute inter-state commerce, over which the Inter-state Commerce Commission at Washington, D. C., alone has jurisdiction.

ACT CREATING

THE

Railroad Commission of Georgia

AND ACTS AMENDATORY THEREOF,

. WITH EXTRACTS FROM THE . . .

CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF GEORGIA

AND LAWS OF THE STATE RELATING TO RAILROADS.

Digitized by Google

The following is the law under which the Railroad Commission was created, being Act No. 269, Part 1, Title 12 of the Acts and Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of Georgia, 1878–1879:

AN ACT

To provide for the regulation of railroad freight and passenger tariffs, and the location and building of passenger and freight depots in this State; to prevent unjust discrimination in the rates charged for transportation of passengers and freights, and to prohibit railroad companies, corporations, and lessees in this State from charging other than just and reasonable rates, and to punish the same, and to prescribe a mode of procedure and rules of evidence in relation thereto, and to appoint Commissioners, and to prescribe their powers and duties in relation to the same.

WHEREAS, It is made the duty of the General Assembly, in article 4, paragragh 2, and section 1 of the Constitution, to pass laws, from time to time, to regulate freight and passenger tariffs; to prohibit unjust discrimination on the various railroads of this State, and to prohibit railroads from charging other than just and reasonable rates, and enforce the same by adequate penalties; therefore,

Commissioners, appointment, term and salary.

SECTION I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Georgia, That there shall be three Commissioners, appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, to carry out the provisions of this Act, of whom one shall be of experience in the law, and one of experience in the railway business. After the expiration of the terms of the office of the Commissioners first appointed, the term of office of successors shall be six years; but, at the first appointment, one Commissioner shall be appointed for two years, one for four years, and one for six years. The salary of each Commissioner shall be twenty-five hundred dollars, to be paid from the Treasury of the State. Any Commissioner may be suspended from office by order of the Governor, who shall report the fact of such suspension, and the reasons therefor, to the next General Assembly, and if a majority of each branch of the General Assembly declare that said Commissioner shall be removed from office, his term of office shall expire. The Governor shall have the same power to fill vacancies in the office of Commissioner as to fill other vacancies, and if, for any reason, said Commissioners are not appointed during the present session of the General Assembly, the Governor shall appoint them thereafter, and report to the next Senate, but the time until then shall not be counted as part of the term of office of said Commissioners, respectively, as herein provided. Said Commissioners shall take an oath of office, to be framed by the Governor, and shall not, jointly or severally, or in any way, be the holders of any railroad stock or bonds, or be the agent or employee of any railroad company, or have any interest in any way in any railroad, and shall so continue during the term of office; and in case any Commissioner becomes disqualified in any way, he shall at once remove the disqualifications or resign, and on failure so to do, he must be suspended from office by the Governor, and dealt with as hereinafter provided. In any case of suspension the Governor may fill the vacancy until the suspended Commissioner is restored or removed.

Location of office, employment of Secretary, expenses, etc.

SEC. II. That said Commissioners shall be furnished with an office, necessary furniture and stationery, and may employ a Secretary or Clerk at a salary of twelve hundred dollars at the expense of the State. The office of said Commissioners shall be kept in Atlanta, and all sums of money authorized to be paid by this Act out of the State Treasury shall be paid only on the order of the Governor; Provided, That the total sum to be expended by said Commissioners for office rent, furniture and stationery shall, in no case, exceed the sum of eight hundred ($800) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, per annum.

Extortion by railroads forbidden.

SEC. III. That from and after the passage of this Act, if any railroad corporation, organized or doing business in this State, under any Act of incorporation or general law of this State now in force, or which may hereafter be enacted, or any railroad corporation organized, or which may hereafter be organized under the laws of any other State, and doing business in this State, shall charge, collect, demand or receive more than a fair and reasonable rate of toll or compensation for the transportation of passengers or freight of any description, or for the use and transportation of any railroad car upon its track, or any of its branches thereof, or upon any railroad within this State which it has the right, license, or permission to use, operate or control, the same shall be deemed guilty of extortion, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be dealt with as hereinafter provided.

Unjust discrimination forbidden.

SEC. IV. EXPLANATION OF ABOVE TABLES.—To find rate per one hundred pounds.

EXAMPLE.—Find the distance for forty miles, or any distance between 21 and 40, on the left side of the Table of Merchandise Rates, and the column on the right, under the head of "cents," gives the correct rate—40 cents.

To find the rate on packages less than 100 pounds. Look under the head of "packages less than 100 pounds, and find the weight of package on which rate is wanted, and run your finger along to the right until you get under the number of "miles" wanted, at the top of the table, and where the two cross you will find the rate. For example—Wanted the rate on a package weighing between 41 and 50 pounds for 60 miles. Find weight of package "over 40 and not over 50 pounds," under head of "packages less than 100 pounds, and run your finger to the right until it comes to the column under the "60 miles," and it will give the rate wanted—35 cents.

EXTRA RATE-CHARGES.—On matter subject to half rate, as one and one-half, or double rate, find graduated rate according to tariff, and then add one-half, or double it, as required. EXAMPLE.—If a package weighs 26 pounds, rated at double rate, and the rate to destination is $1.00 (E) per 100 pounds, the charge for 20 or 25 pounds is 50 cents, double this—$1.00—is the proper amount.
